

Innovation Award

Sponsored by Exclusive Solutions Ltd

The Innovation Award is open to nominations for innovators who are dyslexic and who are living in or working in the UK or the Channel Islands.

Nominees will be innovative and have created or invented something; for example, they may have advanced a product or service, created new ways of doing things or making things. They may have created an entirely new idea, service, or product; this could be in business, education, industry, commerce or even in their community or services to humanity – for example a piece of equipment, a game, a tool or it could be something that has been innovated within industry, commerce, community, business or education.

They will be an innovative and creative thinker, who has had an idea (or ideas) and went ahead and made them happen – they innovated!

Please tell us what, why and how they innovated, what motivated them, what impact this has had for you, or others and what you think makes them special, and why you feel they deserve to be nominated for this award. Don't forget your nominee has to be dyslexic and living or working in the UK.

Eligibility Criteria: Dyslexic individuals over the age of 18, living and working in the UK or the Channel Islands.

Who can make nominations? Anyone who believes this individual deserves recognition for their achievements.
